

RODNEY LOWMAN, PH.D.
ADVISORY BOARD MEMBER

“ DEVELOPING WORTHY LEADERSHIP THROUGH GREAT CONSULTING & GREAT SCIENCE. ”

Dr. Lowman currently is Distinguished Professor in the California School of Professional Psychology at Alliant International University, based in San Diego and President of Lowman, Richardson & Associates. He is an internationally recognized authority on professional ethics, career assessment, and work dysfunctions.

A PhD graduate of Michigan State University with specializations in Industrial-Organizational and Clinical Psychology, Dr. Lowman is the author of eight books and monographs, has published over 100 publications of a scholarly nature and made hundreds of professional presentations all over the world. His most recent book is the forthcoming What Every Professional Needs to Know to be Multiculturally and Internationally Competent to be published in 2012 by the American Psychological Association.

Dr. Lowman is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association (Divisions 12 (clinical psychology), 13 (consulting psychology) and 14 (industrial-organizational psychology) and is a Diplomat of the American Board of Assessment Psychology. In addition to being a member of Leadership Worth Following, LLC's (LWF's) Advisory Board of Directors and the Lead Director of LWF's Science Advisory Board, Dr. Lowman serves on the Board of Convention Affairs of the American Psychological Association and as Research Domain leader for the Society of Consulting Psychology. He is Past President of the Society of Psychologists in Management and the Society of Consulting Psychology. His administrative roles in academia include Program Director, Dean, Provost/VPAA and President (the last one at two universities).